License Renewal Fees

The first license fee in any license category is $50.

For the next license in this same category, the license renewal fee is based on the gross receipts from the previous event held in this category.

Example: An organization paid the $50 license fee and conducted a raffle event. Later that year, this group wanted to conduct another raffle event. The license fee would be based on the gross receipts from the previous raffle license. This same group wants to conduct a festival event. Because this will be the first time the organization has received a license in the festival license category, the license fee will be $50.
